Invitation: Final BioReCer Event

The poster features a green and blue background with a collage of images on the right side. The images include a pile of organic waste, various food products in tins (like sardines and soups), a tractor in a field, and a stack of logs. The BioReCer logo is prominently displayed in the center of the poster.

Roundtable Discussion

BioReCer

Biological Resources Certifications Schemes

From your perspective what strengths or added value do you see in the Biorecer ICT Tool?

BioReCer

Biological Resources Certifications Schemes

What barriers or challenges do you anticipate for the practical adoption of such digital tools?

BioReCer

Biological Resources Certifications Schemes

What would be the key enablers to overcome these barriers?

Your impressions matter:

Key-Takeaway

- One tool that combines various aspects, circularity, certification, availability, location, volume
- Innovative aspect of self-assessment
- Beneficial for biomass providers
- Enhanced transparency, increases trust and credibility
- Automation potential
- Digital Product Passport
- Based on improved certification frameworks
- Covers full chain of custody

Key-Takeaway

- No validation of added data
- Complexity of CO₂-footprint calculation not implemented
- No certification recommendation to proceed
- No clear process of allocation of by products to main-products
- No granted harmonization with existing labels and certification schemes

Recordings and Slides

- All meeting- and webinar-recordings available on the project website
- Latest version of the BIT available at: <https://biorecer-ict-staging.stellio.io/>
- Share your user experience: We appreciate your feedback and comments!
